Our Locations

With the ever-growing demand for transport across the world, Hegelmann Group is quickly expanding to more and more locations across Europe. In the last two years, we opened multiple new offices and service facilities to expand our network to new countries across Europe.

We are now able to provide transports to and from countries like Great Britain, Italy, Norway, and Greece. This allows us to be more flexible and fulfill our customers growing demands. One of our most significant steps was the expansion of our business to North America, which we will introduce in the following chapter "USA Expansion". With this new venture as well as our wide range of business partners, we can provide intercontinental transports and an even better service across the world.
